

7th International Fishing Industry Safety & Health Conference (IFISH 7) Cape Town, South Africa
30 March – 3 April, 2027

The International Fishing Industry Safety & Health Conference (IFISH) is the only international conference dedicated to fishing, aquaculture, and seafood processing health and safety research. Since 2000, IFISH has offered researchers, safety and health professionals, instructors, workers and industry experts, ergonomists, governmental and regulatory representatives, and other professionals the opportunity to attend keynote lectures, workshops, presentations, and poster sessions that feature new occupational health and safety research findings and innovations.

IFISH 7 will be hosted by the University of Cape Town, South Africa, which will be the first time the conference has been held on the African continent. The conference has been organized by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), the Northeast Center for Occupational Health and Safety (NEC) and the Southeastern Coastal Center for Agricultural Health and Safety in coordination with the University of Cape Town (Occupational Medicine). Past IFISH conferences have been located in Woods Hole, Massachusetts; Sitka, Alaska; Mahabalipuram, India; Reykjavik, Iceland; St. John's, Newfoundland; and Rome, Italy.
