About IFISH

The International Fishing Industry Safety & Health Conference (IFISH) is the only international conference dedicated to fishing, aquaculture, and seafood processing health and safety research. Since 2000, IFISH has offered researchers, safety and health professionals, instructors, workers and industry experts, ergonomists, governmental and regulatory representatives, and other professionals the opportunity to attend keynote lectures, workshops, presentations, and poster sessions that feature new occupational health and safety research findings and innovations.

IFISH is advised and organized by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the Northeast Center for Occupational Health and Safety (NEC), the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), the Southeastern Coastal Center for Agricultural Health and Safety (SCCAHS), and the University of Cape Town (Occupational Medicine, UCT).
